Summary

Subject matter: The organization-management provision of the work of the youth public associations as the subjects of the state youth policy (on the example of Stavropol territory).

Author: Danilov Vladimir Robertovich.

Supervisor of studies: Astvatsaturova Maiya Artashesovna, doctor of political science, professor, chair of creative and innovative management and law.

Customer organization: Stavropol territorial public organization “The Russian youth union”.

Topicality of the research: Structural and functional transformation of the socio-political and political and management system, entwined in the fabric of the constantly changing socio-economic realia and some manifestations of the spiritual and moral crisis in the society give birth to the controversial tendencies in the youth environment. The new challenges connected with the changes in the global world, the new goals of the country’s socio-economic development requires systemic renewal, development of the tasks and mechanisms of the state youth policy. This is the most active, talented and at the same time the most vulnerable category of the society. One state organ of power for the interaction with such a complicated subsystem is not enough. It is public organizations that must work with the youth and the state power in its turn must support these public organizations. This necessitates the creation of the effective instruments of the organization-management provision of the work of the youth public association.

In this connection the study of the organization-management provision of the work of the youth public associations as the subjects of the state youth policy at the regional level in Stavropol territory appears topical.

Objective of the research is the summarization of the work of the youth public associations as the subjects of the state youth policy at the regional level on the example of Stavropol territory.

Tasks of the research:
Theoretical and practical significance of the research is determined by the use in the research into the organization-management provision of the work of the youth public associations of the approaches of management science, topical concepts and management theories, democratic and civil participation.

Results of the research: In the course of the elaboration of the graduation qualification thesis we fulfilled all the tasks set, and namely: we examined the notion “management” and the resulted phenomenon in the theoretical comprehension of the western scientific management school, verified the understanding of the content of management as a process in the Russian scientific tradition, explored the legal basis of the provision of the work of the youth public associations in the RF. We also summarized the direction of work of the youth public associations in Stavropol territory, revealed the forms and methods of the organization-management provision of the work of the youth public associations and worked out the author’s project targeted at the improvement in the effectiveness of the organization-management provision of the work of the youth public associations in Stavropol territory.
Recommendations: to improve the effectiveness of the organization-management provision of the work of the youth public associations in Stavropol territory we propose the project “The system of the multiplication of the youth projects”. The main idea of the System: the exchange of the project-related ideas in the sphere of the youth policy.