

SUMMARY

Subject matter: Target programs as an organizational- administrative method of insuring the social support of the population at municipal level (on the example of Pyatigorsk Administration)

Author: Shakhnazaryan Georgy Arturovich

Supervisor of studies: Astvatsaturova Maya Artashesovna, Doctor of Political Science, professor, chair of creative and innovative administration and Law

Customer organization: Administration of health RESORY Pyatigorsk

Topicality of the research is conditioned by the fact that the program-target method of ensuring the social support of the population is one of the efficient organizational-administrative technologies in the strengthening of the social nature of the Russian state which is being actualized in the contemporary conditions of the economic and social risks.

Objective of the research: to reveal the specific features of the administration of the target programs in the sphere of the social support of the population at the level of municipal government (on the example of the Administration of health-RESORY Pyatigorsk).

Tasks of the research: To understand on the basis of the theoretical conceptions of administration the essence, content and purpose of the program-target method. To reveal the legal principles and politico-administrative substantiation of the contemporary target programs in the Russian Federation. To generalize the main problems, significance and methods of the contemporary program-target ensuring of the social support of the Russian citizens at local level. To determine the subjects and structural interconnections of the Administration of health-resort Pyatigorsk in the organization of the social support of the population. To highlight the program principles and organizational-administrative technologies of the realization of the target municipal program “The social support of the citizens of the health-RESORY Pyatigorsk”. To develop the project aimed at the increase in the efficiency of the program-target method of ensuring the social support of the citizens in health-RESORY Pyatigorsk.

Object of the research: The program-target method of administration in ensuring the social interests of the citizens of the RF.

Subject of the research: The system of control of the Administration of health-RESORY Pyatigorsk.

Theoretical and practical significance of the results of the research. The main principles of the research promote the development and extension of knowledge of the Municipal system of government on of general plane and of the administration of target programs in the sphere of the social support of the population at the level of municipal system of government. The results of the research may be used in the optimization of the target municipal programs of the social support the population/

Results of the research: the analysis of the application of the target programs and national projects of the RF on the social support of the population correlated with the contemporary problems and crisis phenomena was carried out. The practice of the realization of the target municipal programs of social orientation by the Administration of health-resort Pyatigorsk on discovering the strong and problem sides of the program administration was generalized. The, passport of the author's municipal program of social orientation addressed to the student youth was developed.

Recommendations. We proposed the author's project of the municipal program "The increase in the civil-patriotic activity of the youth". We are worthy of the Victory" as a target project on the increase in the level of the civil activity and patriotism of the student youth of Pyatigorsk.