

SUMMARY

Subject matter of the Graduation Thesis: Improving the management of social infrastructure of municipalities (by the example of the municipality of Ust-Dzhegutinskye municipal district KCR)

Author of the Graduation Thesis: Bayramukov Biaslan Borisovich.

Supervisor of the Graduation Thesis: the professor, doctor of historical sciences, professor of historical and socio-philosophical disciplines, oriental studies and theology U.U. Grankin

Information about the contracting authority: the administration of Ust-Dzhegutinsky municipal district.

Topicality of the research. Livelihoods of the population of the municipality is provided by the creation and development of social infrastructure - a set of organizations and institutions whose activities are aimed at meeting human needs in education, health care, recreation, physical education and sports.

Objectives of the research: is to deepen the theoretical knowledge of the content and features of the management of social infrastructure of the municipality and the development of practical recommendations for improving management of social infrastructure of Ust-Dzhegutinsky muniitspalnogo area.

The tasks of the research: are reveal the essence of the concept of "social infrastructure" and its classification; examine the contents and the legal framework of local government management of social infrastructure; to study international experience managing social infrastructure of the municipality; characterize the contemporary socio-economic condition of Ust-Dzhegutinsky municipal district KCR; to analyze the management practices of social infrastructure of the district; formulate proposals for improving the management of social infrastructure of Ust-Dzhegutinsky municipal area.

The theoretical significance of the research is to deepen the theoretical knowledge in the management of social infrastructure of the municipality in the implementation of the powers of local governments to address the relevant issues of local importance, clarifying the essence of the concept of "social infrastructure" and "social infrastructure of the municipality", as well as the classification of social infrastructure.

The practical significance of the research. is the ability to use the activities of local governments of all types of municipalities in the proposed recommendations for improving management of social infrastructure developed by the example of the administration of Ust-Dzhegutinsky municipal district.

The results of the research: Management of social infrastructure areas shall be local government Ust-Dzhegutinsky municipal area. In practice, the use of program-target method of management of social infrastructure of Ust-Dzhegutinsky area has a number of problems of theoretical, methodological, regulatory and realizable character.

Recommendations: Priorities for improvement is the creation of an information system under the working title "The electronic passport social infrastructure of Ust-Dzhegutinsky municipal district." The second area of improvement is to promote the development of LSG district service activities by solving problems relating to motivate the population to receive services and motivate entrepreneurs to provide such services.