

Summary of the master's dissertation

Theme of the master's dissertation: "Psycho-pedagogical support of the high school students' preparation to the final certification"

Author of the master's dissertation: Orlyansky Dmitriy Sergeevich (37.03.01 Psychology (overall profile)).

Scientific supervisor of the master's dissertation: the candidate of psychological sciences, associate professor of personality psychology and professional activity Voronkina L.B.

Customer organization: School № 1 of the Predgorny Municipal District

Topicality of the research: One of the most important stressful situations is the school graduation and passing of the USE. It is a complex procedure that differs from the usual experience of students and makes special demands on the level of development of mental functions. Modern psychology has always been interested in the influence of personal psychological characteristics of schoolchildren on the process of their learning, development and overcoming stressful situations.

Objective: Consists in the development of technological chains including methods of corrective action, tools and mechanisms for the formation of stress resistance among high school students at the stage of preparation for the final certification through a system of psychological and pedagogical support.

Tasks:

1. To conduct a theoretical analysis of the features of the age development of high school students in the period of preparation for exams. Also to systematize and generalize the positive experience of applying various techniques in group and individual work.
2. To analyze the essence and specificity of the procedure of the Unified State Exam, and also to analyze the process of psychological preparation for the Unified State Exam.

3. To conduct a diagnostic study.
4. To develop and approve the algorithm of the Program of psychological and pedagogical support for the preparation of senior pupils for the final certification.
5. To conduct a re-diagnosis to monitor the effectiveness of the proposed development program.
6. To summarize the results of the study.

Theoretical and practical significance of the research:

-The results of the research significantly supplement the scientific understanding of the personality of graduates in preparing for the USE, their relationship with the effectiveness of passing the final certification.

- A program of psychological and pedagogical support for the preparation of high school students for the final certification was created on the basis of theoretical and empirical data

Results of the research. In the course of the research it was proved that the Program of psychological and pedagogical support for the preparation of senior pupils for the final certification "Unified State Examination without problems" contributes to an increase in the stress-resistance of a high school student's personality, which is one of the conditions for psychological readiness for exam tests and its success.

Recommendations: The results of the study can be used by primary school teachers, school psychologists, social educators, administrators of educational institutions.