

Annotation

of final qualifying work Chernovoy K. R.

Amount of work: 70 page, 8 pictures, 36 literature, 3 applications.

Keywords: development methods of web-sites, HyperText Markup Language, information technology.

Final qualifying is devoted to designing a website for the company, using modern methods of web mastering. This website was created to familiarize himself with the main activities of the company «IT-PSLU."

In this work shown the necessity of developing this site. It is also defined its basic functionality. The practical result of this thesis is a site developed using hypertext markup language HTML. In the feasibility study cost estimated costs to develop the site and show that its creation is economically advantageous. The results of the thesis can be used by the company «IT-PSLU" in the profession.