SUMMARY

The Subject Matter of the Graduation Thesis: Political and administrative support of civil solidarity in modern Russia.

The Author of the Graduation Thesis: Khuranov Andemir Shadinovich

The Supervisor of the Graduation Thesis: Astvatsaturova Maiya Artashesovna

Information about customer organization: private individual

Relevance of the research topic: the problem of civil solidarity is very important for any state and any society in all historical epochs. Civil solidarity does not arise at one time, it is formed under the influence of many circumstances and factors gradually, over many decades. The relevance of the formation of civil solidarity is acute in modern States, where there are many contradictions between citizens, as well as between citizens and the government. Events in Syria, Ukraine, France, Venezuela and other countries show that citizens are ready to be in solidarity with each other, including speaking against the government, which does not suit them.

It is very important that the authorities and administrations create favorable conditions for civil solidarity and try to unite all citizens on the basis of respect for the state, on the basis of the law, on the basis of the principles of democracy and many other foundations – historical, cultural, spiritual and moral. Therefore, it is important to study the activities of the authorities and management in cooperation with civil society institutions to ensure civil solidarity in modern Russia, in particular, at the regional level.

Purpose of work: it is a generalization of the principles, value bases, directions of political and administrative support of civil solidarity in modern Russia.

Objectives: to determine the content, principles, and importance of civil solidarity; to identify the fundamental principles of civil solidarity in the strategies and concepts of the modern Russian state; to define the value bases of political and administrative support of civil solidarity in the discourse of the President of the Russian Federation; to summarize the main activities of the Federal authorities to ensure civil solidarity of modern Russian society; to identify problems and opportunities to strengthen civil solidarity at the level of the North Caucasus Federal district; to propose a project solution to enhance the role of civil society institutions in strengthening civil solidarity at the regional level.

Scientific novelty: the interpretation of political and administrative support of civil solidarity in the discourse of the President of the Russian Federation is highlighted; the basic principles of the efforts of authorities and management to strengthen civil solidarity in the strategies and concepts of the modern Russian state are revealed; the structure, directions, forms of activity of Federal authorities to ensure civil solidarity of modern Russian youth are summarized.

Basic provisions for protection:

- civil solidarity is a complex phenomenon and at the same time an institution, it includes civic consciousness, patriotism, consolidation of citizens on the basis of common purposes.

- provision of civil solidarity at the level of politics, authority, management is a complex and problematic process. Currently, there are many adverse factors and conditions that hamper the civic unity of our citizens.

- independent direction of strengthening of civil solidarity is political, administrative and organizational work of authorities and management with youth.

Theoretical and practical significance of the study: it clarifies categorically such concepts as "citizenship", "solidarity", "patriotism", which is important for management science, for management in the field of public relations, both at the Federal and regional levels. The materials of this master's thesis can be used by public authorities and management in the organizational work with citizens in the conduct of socially significant events. Also, the materials of the study may be of interest to civil society institutions in their activities for the implementation of projects of socio-Patriotic, civic orientation at the level of regions and municipalities of the NCFD.
Research results: a project has been developed that contributes to increasing the level of civil solidarity at the regional level in the interaction of the government and civil society.

Recommendations: it is necessary to develop and implement measures to strengthen the civil solidarity of the Russian people.