Results of the research: We have found the solutions of the target tasks to achieve the main goals – the analysis of the theoretical and practical foundations of personnel training in the organs of municipal service in order to identify the existing problems and form recommendations on their elimination.

Recommendations:

1. At present the legally established ways of the prevention and resolution of the conflict of interest in civil service are in short supply. In this connection it is necessary to take measures aimed at the identification of the causes of the origin of the conflict of interest, to anticipate the dynamics of the development of the conflict, to develop the ways and methods of the prevention and resolution of the conflict of interest, to implement the assessment of the effectiveness of its resolution in order to exclude the situation that can trigger off its repetition;

2. The development of the clear policy of training employees of the FMS of the RF;

3. To establish a precise algorithm of the process of the declaration by civil employees of their incomes;

4. To integrate into the work of all public services and agencies the committees on the observance of the requirements to the official behaviour of civil employees and resolution of the conflict of interest.
